The Battleship Indiana Found Faultless in Every Respect,

WASHINGTON, April 14. The report of the boardof; maval officers appointed to conduct the final or efficiency trial of the battleship Indiana is received at the Navy Department. It shows that the vessel is worthy of all the praise bestowed on her. Her hull, engine, engine, muchnery and fittings were round faultless.

The trial took place on the voyage be-tween Pott Royal, S. C., and Norfolk, which the Indiana made in forty hours. Although the run was onder natural druft and with four bollers only, she maintained an average speed of 1312, knots, an excellent showing for a ship de-signed to run fifteen knots under the best conditions. The horse nower devaluated conditions. The horse power developed was nearly 5,000. There was very little roll, the maximum being 20 degrees in a heavy cross sea. This trial completes the official testing of the indiana.

Profs. Robinson and Hutchings of Bowdoin College Secure Wonder-ful Results With X Rays. Prof. F. C. Robinson and Prof. C. C.

Hutchings, of Bowdoln College, are beutdevelopment of photography with the new X rays and have developed the process in a remarkable degree. For many weeks they have been experimenting with the X rays and accured excellent results, using the Crooke tube. They believed, however, that too long a time was required for the operation, twenty minutes at the best being required with the Crooke tube, and Prof. Robinson experimented until he has now reduced the time of taking a photograph with a tube of his own making to the remarkable time of ten seconds. The Crooke tube is large and round, but Prof. Rubinson, who is a glass blower among numerous other accomplishments, has made a round tube some six inches long and perhaps an inch in dia meter, by which the rays are concentrated and better results secured, as will be seen from the time, ten seemals. The heat previous time for this work, so for as has appeared in print, is twenty ulnutes, as stated. The professors have photographed hands, feet, and el brows and Prof. Robinson is now at work in experiments for further development which, if successful, will supprise the world. It is believed he will succeed eventually.

Seme of the horienness are anxious to have a good place in the city to speed their horses and are talking of starting a subscription for the proper preparation of a half mile stretch on State street near the Green Point road. It is proposed, with the city's permission, to widen the road and clear is of rocks.

Capt. Benjumin Arey, Jr., of this city, who has gone to Ellsworth with his steamer, the flector, is starting in with a good business on the Union river. The little steamer is used both as a pas-surger boat and for towing business, having been especially fitted for it during the past winter. Capt. Arey will move his family to Elisworth soon.

English Officers, Past and Present The old fashioned captain was very often kindly and popular, and had excellent abstract intentions as regards his soldiers, but he never took the trouble to get really en rapport with them. Now the captain rapport with them. Now the captain knows his commany as a specially active curate knows his section of the parish. Of course, some officers are better than others in the work of getting a held on their men, but, take the army as a whole, a very high standard is maintained in this respect. Between the intelligence and knowledge of the British officer of the present day and of purchase times there can of course, be no sort of comparison. In cld days many of the mon who bought commissions for their sons did so purely for social reasons. Hence half the men who took to the army had no genuine vocation for soldibring as a profession, and could not be expected to work at it as if it were the real business of their lives. Besides, men who had bought a commission as a sort of luxury had the feeling that thoy had a right to do what they would with their own. It is, indeed, not too much to say that the abolition of purchase did even more than its advocates dared to hope in the matter of improving the professional capacity of the British officer.

-Landon Spectator Lamons For the Lung Lemons are an excellent remedy in pulmonary diseases. When used for lung trouble from six to nine a day should be used. More juice is obtained from lonons by boiling them. Put the lemons in cold water and bring slowly to a boil. Boil slowly until they begin to soften; remove from the water, and when cold enough to handle squeeze until the juice is extracted, strain and add enough loaf or crushed sugar to make it palatable, being careful not to make it too sweet. Add about twice as much water as there is juice. This preparation may be made every morning, or enough may be prepared one day to last three or four days, but it must be kept in a cool place.

Hat is fatigue?

Fatigue is the natural result of labor, and as such is deperiodic symptom with which every healthy person is familiar. It is one of the laws of organic life that poriods of relaxation shall succeed periods of activity. The heart itself is normally in repose for about one third of the time densaried by such best and the constant of the time densaried by such best and the constant of the time densaried by such best and the constant of the cons of the time consumed by each beat—a fact in which there is comething purticularly suggestive and interesting, since physiologists agree that about one third of the 34 hours should be devoted

Life is made up of a series of vibra-tions in which tpesion and rest succeed each ottor. The heart vibrates about 70 times a minute; the vibrations of the respinion or the respinion of the respinion of the in the same period, while the vibrations of the whole organism may be said to complete their cycle once in 24 hours. Abnormal fatigue, a state approaching exhaustion, occurs when one attempts to atter partupe a thythm, when it he house of tension are made to encroach upon those which chould be devoted to rest, when muscle and more already fatigated are diliven to further exection. ARMENIAN RELIEF.

Fourth Report of the Van Industrial Bureau and Village Relief Work, Feb. 1st--March 1st, 1896.

Defen the place there are the state town of the third water through the control of the control of the third water through the control of the control o who had been the hosts of the British-consul, escaped as by a intrucio, and their friends made a "grave" for them under the mangers jot the cattle in a dark, damp stable. After more than four months' imprisonment in the un-healtful and melancholy refuge, they were helped to escape by night, by their filends at the risk of their lives. "he atclude of the Moslems of this remote is richeds at the risk of their lives. The actitude of the Mosterns of this remote of the poor Christians are entirely at their region is one of rampant fanaticism, and the poor Christians are entirely at their merey, both as to their faith and their lives—property, they practically have none left. Nor can we send help there. We can only succour those who succeed in etcaping and find their way here. The region of Norduz is nearer as and should be in better condition, but it is under a reign of terror at the hands of the Kurdish outlaw, Shakir, who for years has been allowed by the government, who tried and softenced him for the worst of crimes, to rob and kill and generally terrorize the entire Armenian population of the region. Many have already emigrated, but those loft are importerished to the verge of starvation and haked beyond decency. All their possessions are in the hands of this chief and lids men—even to the treasures of their monasteries and churches. The pessantry are obliged to do the work and provide the fedder necessary for their former flocks; but not one drop of milk or a single sheep can they use or sell. We must care for those who come in from this region until the snow melts and we can perhaps recurn them to their homes. We hope to have the funds to at once send, a relief expedition there under government protection, so as to save lothers from being forced from their homes.

and the reversions protection, so as to save jothers from being forced from their homes.

Moke is dnother district to which we must get immediate help. And we have appropriated, on the faith that it will be forticening from abroad L. T. 2000 to orthcoming from abread, L. T. 200 to list district to be sent this werk, if pos-ible. sible!

Our plan of action now is to send the villagers bank as fask as possible and to care for them in their own villages wherever there is reasonable safety for life. This object is much desired by the government which looks askance at the crowds of villagers in the city. It promises to co-parata with an earlier of the control of t crowds of villagers in the city. It promises to co-operate with us in getting them back to their homes, by securing safety in the villages. On this understanding, we have already sent over 700 persons back, with the promise of sending help to them in their villages. On the prompt fullament or this prompts, in the import fullament or this prompts, in the import of carees, bangs the very life of the people.

During February, we have sent help to the amount of L. T. 100 to the region of Arjest to be "distributed" by a resident Armentan committee. And they are asking for more. We have also sent ander government escorts a deputation to Shahdush with L. T. 180. They report, great desthation, but have not notified us as to the unions of money still mosessor. great desthation but have not notified us as to the minent of more still necessary. We need imperatively 1. T. 8,000, to carry on the village rollet work, both to simply bread until the spring opena and the villagers can help out their diet with green thingris and more imperative still, to, give them oven and furning implements with seed corn of that they can again become self-supporting. Turning to the work actually done in the city during the past monter in the various departments, we will take thest the foliustrial flureau.

Although during February every effort was made to limit the work of this department and thus to reserve our resources for the more vital matters of bread and of rpring reimbursement, we have still been obliged to discribute:

Webs of cloth. Sewed gainents.

to keep the crowds from coning in.

Declartment of Fros Aid.

This has been called upon as the cheapest and most expedient avenue through which to adduce the number of refugees in the city by returning them to their homes. Each village is taken in turn; it is ascortained if safety exists, and if this is affirmed, the refugees from that village or district are called, their needs inquired into, and a certain sum decided upon for each family represented; their most pressing most for clothing is relieved, their bread dickets are taken and they are wished Godspeed. During February we have used in this way 8662 (L. S. 160.) Since this sum was divided among about 700 families it will be seen that it is only a tentative help, given in the hope that we can speedily send relief expeditions to the people in their villages.

To Sum Up.

A total of $7,838 (L. S. 1,464) was used in February, helping thereby, in work, free bread, cothing and bedding, some 19,000 persons. We can as yet see no end to die need. It is simply a desperate fight for race existence; and without this help in the past there would have been no question as to the issue. Nor will the demand for help cease for at least two months, even if the most sanguine house for reform are realized. The industrial Department should be continued for at least three months.

The time has not arrived when the Armenlans are free even to express gratitude for what is being done for them. But let not their benefactors think for a moment that this great wave of beneficedee sweeps over an unfecting and imappreciative people. For the present they cannot speak; but this that is being done for them will never he erused from their history or their memory—the only bright spot in this, their darkest and most cerrible experience.

Respectfully auhmitted.

The Bakeries.

Now six in number, the bakeries supply some 7,500 persons with bread. In addition this department has furnished 443 bushles of wheat where wheat could be given instead of bread, thus saving the expense of milling and baking. The bakeries are using about 60 bushles of wheat and are running at a daily expense of $125 (L. S. 25.) We are making every effort to cut down the bread list by returning people to their villages, where they can be helped at less expense than here; more than 700 have been so returned. But the lucoming tide is greater than the durgoing, and no real decrease can be as yet reported, although we have even asked the government to use means to keep the crowds from conling in.

GOUNDD CLUB.

At Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening the louned Club gave its second and last concert of the season in the presence of an audience which almost completely filled the very attractive hall.: It was deo a highly pleased ascemblage for the music was of a very enjoyable character.

The various selections of the evening were all warmly applanded and several This is good news and will start the encores were given ladicating a full appreciation of the work of the club and he other participants. The programme which consisted of Dudley Buck's de-lightful work "Don Munio" and miscel-lancous selections, was as follows:

"Don Munio" was song with excellent effect and its rendition was must creditable to the club, and the able directing by Prof. C. J. Marshall, who has conducted all the reharkals as well. The solos by Prof. Marshall, Miss Alice McLaughlin. Mr. S. H. Bosriman, Mr. F. A. Edwards and Mrs. W. A. Nelson were received with much favor and the singing of the chorus was harmonious, strong and expressive throughout. The inseclaneous programme followed and was opened with Weber's "Medora" by Fullen's orchestra, which in this number and all others of the evening played splendidly. evening played splendidly. The heart plaudits of the audience were well do aerved.

Miss Myrtie Higgins in her soprano solos showed a well trained and very pleasing voice which successfully coped with the songs which she selected for the locasion. She received a handsome bouquet of flowers.

The Weber Quartette, composed of Mosers. Bright, Pote, Goodenow and Libby, made a genuine hit, its first song, particularly, being a meritorious rendition.

The steamer City of Bongor, Capt. Other Ingrahem in command, reached this portion her first trip of the year at 2 p. m. She was greated coming up the river by many salutes from the mills and steamers. The steamer is looking very handsome. The Bangor will make three trips per week out of this nort. She will urrive here Tuesdays, Thursdays and Satupdays and will leave again for Boston at 3 p. s. of the same day. She will make all landings going to Boston with the exception of Hangden and Searsport. She will make landings at Searsport. She will make landings at Searsport on the Saturday trips only. The Bangor lett late in the atternoon for Boston.

Boston Symphony Orchestra.
Judging from the udvance sale for the concert announced by the Boston Symphony Orchestra this evening, the music loving public of Portland and vicinity elther do not realize the nature of the ether do not realize the nature of the entertainment which is to be given them, or else they do not care for it. The Boston Symphony Orchestra will give as complete a condert in every detail in Porthard as it would give in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, or in fast any of the otites it visits. The management does not lay great stress upon abnormal receipts, but it does expect an andlence worthy of the standing of the orchestra. If such an audience cannot be obtained, the inference is obvious and further cancerts will be abandoned. The programme, with no expagnention, is a superione.

Yale" Murphy Will Play With Ban-gor-Good News for the Enthusi-asts. Last evening the directors of the Bangor Base Bail Association received a telegrom from Manager Long, of the Bangors, stating that he had "Yale" Murphy's terms, which means that Murphy will undoubtedly sign at once end pluy with Banger this year.

> sporting blood in the veins of every en Everybody has heard of "Yele" mur phy and he is known to be a first class player. Bangor is indeed fortunate to secoring him as quite a number of teams were after him. He is a gfinduate of Yale University and was captain of the Yale team in '92 and 93. Those teams made the best National Lengue teams work hard to win by one or two runs. In '98 Murphy was taken late the New York National League team and played at short stor, displacing "Shorty" Ful-ler, acknowledged to be one of the best, if not the best short stop in the country He was also with the team in '94. In '95 he started in as short stop, but was replaced by Fuller, his building having fallen off somewhat, and went to the outfield, finishing the season there. Murphy is a magnificent fielder [and base runner, a good batter, excelling in sacrifice hitting, which whis games but does not appear in the batting in the base hit column, a hard worker and a base ball general.

The Bangor directors here dance their n'most to get a strong team together and they have succeeded. If any weak spots show themselves after the playing begins, they will be instantly strengthened as the directors have a string tied to other fine players, which they can pul if necessary. Manager Long, of the Bangors, was playing them on the 20th and it will be good training for both teams.

April 23rd and the talked of excursion from Bungor has consequently been given up. The Bangors will practice with the Lawrence, Mass., team at Lawrecce on the 23rd and 24th, in addition to playing them on the 20th and a will be SOUTH.

The Bangors will not attempt to do any hard work to the practice games which precede the opening of the New England League contest, as it wound not be good policy to take chances in bearing outside teams and thereby get launed and berhaps lojured. Hence if the team should lose some of the games or not make a very good showing the public should take into account that the players are holding themselves in reserve and working earlies at itsel.

It will be remembered that in the practice games last year the Bangors lost some games to inferior teams for the reason that they were instructed not to exert themselves. The pitchers especially should not work hard in the chilly April weather and as for the batters it takes a few games for them to really get their eyes on the bail. After the practice games hast year the work of the Bangors was all right and it will undoubtedly be the same this year.

The Bangors will assemble at Hittle.

bangpra was all right and it will an doubtedly be the same this year.

The Bangors will assemble at It t Falmonth is Boston next Sunday and o Mooday they will play their drest gam with the Lewrence team. All the play era bave, it is expected, been doing som practice work at their homes and will report in good physical conductor.
